3. For what purposes and on what legal grounds do we process your data?

We process your personal data in compliance with the provisions of the European General Data Protection Regulation (EC/GDPR) and the German Federal Data Protection Act (BDSG). Data is used for company-internal purposes, as, for instance, to inform you about special offers or new products and send you invitations to events as well as information and reminders in connection with your existing contractual relationship with us.

4. Who receives your personal data?

Your personal data is used for the purpose of managing your contractual relationship with us only. Access to data is limited to our legal department, our management board and the respective project leaders.

7. Legal basis

We process your personal data on the following legal basis:

The legal basis is the GDPR, whereby the processing of personal data relies on the following articles:

1. a) 6 I lit. a GDPR: the data subject (you) has given their consent to the processing of their personal data for one or several specific purposes, e.g. to conclude a contract with us.
2. b) 6 I lit. b GDPR: Processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject (you) is party, or in order to take steps at the data subject's request prior to enter into a contract.

3. c) 6 I lit. c GDPR: Processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject, e.g. tax obligations to which we are subject.
4. d) 6 I lit. d GDPR: Processing is necessary to protect vital interests of the data subject or another natural person; although this is a very rare event that hopefully will never occur, it includes, e.g., the situation where you would be injured within the scope of your contractual relationship with us, making it necessary for us to disclose your name, age or other vital information to a doctor, hospital or other third party.

Art. 6 I lit. f GDPR: All processing operations to which none of the aforementioned articles apply, these operations being necessary to keep a legitimate interest of our company or any third party, provided there are no overriding interests, fundamental rights and fundamental freedoms of the data subject. Should the processing of personal data rely on this Art. 6 I lit. f GDPR, our legitimate interest would be to implement our existing contractual relationship with you.

This enables your IP address to be shortened by Google within member States of the European Union (EU) or in other countries party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area (EEA) before being transmitted to the USA. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transmitted to a Google server in the US and shortened there.

On behalf of the operator of this website, Google will use this information in order to analyze your use of the website and compile reports on website activity, and to provide the website operator with further services related to website and internet usage. These data originate from interest-based advertising from Google, as well as visitor data from third-party providers. Such data cannot be associated with a specific individual. You can deactivate this function at any time via the display settings in your Google account, or generally refuse to allow the collection of your data by Google Analytics, as explained under "Objection to data collection".
